Course & Section Demand Statistics

Dear Colleagues,

Many of you have shared with us the importance of the course and section demand statistics, particularly during the registration process.

To improve the experience for faculty, staff, and students the University Registrar's Office worked with ITS to combine the course statistics with the section statistics in a single site, Course & Section Demand Statistics. Effective November 1, you will find the course information, with no change to the format, followed by a list of related discussion sections. The new format for discussion sections provides a clearer indication of enrollment and open seats.

We hope you find this update helpful.

Sincerely,

University Registrar's Office
